Top 20 Teams

1 TUCSON SUNNYSIDE . . . The Blue Devils should set the standard in the AAA ranks this season, with electrifying Fred Sims (see cover) showing the way. During a remarkable junior campaign, Sims merely scampered for 1440 yards and over eight yards per carry. He grabbed All-City and First Team All-State honors for his efforts and there should be no stopping him in '80. Sims figures to close out his prep career in grand style, utilizing his great running instincts, good size (5-10,205) and 4.6 speed to the utmost. But as good as he is, Sims is far from the whole story at Sunnyside. Coach Paul Petty (who sports a 113-82-6 career mark) has a bevy of dependable players, many of whom have excellent credentials. Senior Mike Bracamonte, a 5-11, 185-pounder with 4.7 speed, returns in the secondary, where he garnered numerous awards last year, in addition to his nine interceptions and 11 more deflections. There's a good chance that Blue Devil fans will also see Bracamonte team with Sims in the offensive backfield. Tough Glen Duran (5-10,170, sr) is a valuable performer at noseguard, but he can play just about anywhere. The remainder of the roster shows outstanding size, especially in the form of linemen Jesse Leinard (6-4,295) and David Valenzuela (6-0,240). Petty and crew will even have the services of Ken Holt, the younger brother of former University of Arizona gridder Harry Holt. The younger Holt is a transfer from Texas who is a fine athlete with size (6-4,195). He'll be a welcome addition. The upcoming season should really be something special for this Sunnyside unit, as they move into a new stadium with a wealth of talent.

2 MESA MOUNTAIN VIEW . . . Highly regarded head coach Jesse Parker usually fields a very highly regarded team and this year is no exception. The Toros streaked past ten straight opponents, winning the '79 Central Division A League championship in the process. However, in the first round of the playoffs, Mountain View lost a tight decision to rival Mesa, thereby ending their hopes to repeat as AAA champs. But this is a new year and the Toros are raring to go. "We expect to have an excellent football team - though smaller than last year and more inexperienced," says Parker. Yet this year's edition appears to have quickness and depth, plus that ever-important tradition. Parker's signal caller should be senior John Coleman (5-10,170), who can also double in the secondary. He started nine games at quarterback and five more at defensive back last fall. One of his main targets will be wingback Kevin Van Norman, a 5-9, 180-pound senior with good hands. Others to watch are tackle Jeff Roberts (6-3,215), center Mark Lerdall (5-10,180), guard Mike Bryant (5-11,180) and tackle Pat Bailey (5-11,185) along the line; while quarterback Jim Buranti (5-8,155), fullback Mike Edison (5-10,180) and halfback David Hoopes (5-9,170) will work at the skill positions.

3 TEMPE McCLINTOCK . . . "We have the potential to be the best team in the state," says veteran coach Karl Kiefer. Of course, that would be nothing new for the Chargers, who compiled the best AAA football record in the state over the past decade. And with six starters back on offense and another half dozen back from the defensive unit, there's ample reason for optimism. Watch for senior Jim Fossenkemper at quarterback and the likes of Mike Arthur and Terry Payne at the running backs. The receiving chores should fall into the capable hands of Kelly Greer (5-7,150,WR), James Sosinski (6-2,180,WR) and Mike Griffith (6-1,180,TE). Meanwhile, Jeff Case, Ken Ivory, Tim Judge (6-3,210), Chris Rosner, Jon Warren and Richard Young will provide the backbone of the interior line. McClintock's linebackers should be super, thanks to the performances of Chuck Abbadessa (5-8,180), Dick Baniszewski (5-10,170), Todd French (6-3,215), Greg Land (6-4,185), Tad Thomas (5-5, 150) and Tim Whitlock (5-11,175). Not to be outdone is the secondary, which boosts the skills of a trio of seniors - Danny Hinds, Mike Popkins and Charlie Marshall. The Chargers uncharacteristically missed the playoffs last season with a 6-3-1 mark. We'd be very surprised if they don't battle back into the championship picture this time.

With these 20 returning lettermen, McClintock seems well on its way to matching their winning performance during the Seventies — best in the AAA ranks.

4 AMPHITHEATER . . . The reigning AAA titlists, the '80 Panthers have a tough act to follow. Fortunately for Amphi fans, several key returnees are still available from last season's 13-0 squad. Foremost among the veterans are five seniors and a junior. Flashy running backs Joey Canizales (5-8,165) and Morgan Maxwell (5-11,185) can gobble up big chunks of yardage at any time, while offensive tackle Chuck Colbert (6-3,230) makes sure no one gets in their path to the goal line. Fourth-year defensive tackle Rick Aikens (6-5,220) anchors the stoppers, with the assistance of junior linebacker Robbie Lieurance (5-11,190) and defensive back Joe Valenzuela (5-10,185). Of course, a major rebuilding job lies ahead, but coach Vern Friedli will get the most from his guys. And that should be plenty!

5 GLENDALE APOLLO . . . With eight defensive starters still available, including the entire secondary, the Hawks (8-3 last season) should be especially stingy when the other team has the ball. That secondary, consisting of seniors Jim Meeks (5-11,175), Steve Nelson (6-4,190), Tim O'Dell (5-11,170) and Jim McGinlay (5-10,170), is a classy group. Of course, standout linebackers John Knight (6-0,210) and Jerry Lopez (5-10,185,jr) certainly will put the clamps on many a ball carrier, while Larry Lopez (Jerry's twin brother, also 5-10,185), Kevin Horne (5-10,175) and Pat Sell (6-2,185) should anchor the line. On offense, the signal caller could be Craig Stone, a 6-1, 200 pound senior. He'll work with Meeks and Knight in the backfield, as well as throwing to dependables like tight end T.J. Gallagher (6-2,200). There are a number of top-notch youngsters up from the undefeated JV, with big Mike Kleyhauer (6-4,210) among that group. Apollo appears to be the class of the Skyline Division and a legitimate threat for state championship laurels.

6 PHOENIX MARYVALE . . . New head coach Buck Hall has a good nucleus back from the Panthers' 10-3 outfit of a year ago. And there's more help on the way from a promising junior varsity and two undefeated freshman units. Hall takes over the helm for long-time mentor Bob Young, who helped establish Maryvale as one of the outstanding football programs in the state. Chief assets for this year's squad will be an extremely large line (what's new?) and several top-notch performers in the offensive backfield. The best interior lineman should be tackle Kent Boden, a 6-3,215-pound senior with a whole lot of drive. He'll get a big hand from the likes of JV graduate Jim Guymon (6-4,250), a tough junior who could turn into a blue chipper. One of the beneficiaries of the efforts of Boden, Guymon and the others along the line will definitely be a quick scatback named Pete Nickerson, who has reasonable size (5-10,175) and 4.6 speed. His elusive running style also makes him a dynamite punt returner. Nickerson's running mate is fellow senior Don Conant (5-10,170). The field general is a fine passer with good leadership qualities; that would be Rich Ayott (5-9,165). Maryvale looks like the favorite in the new Metro Division.

7 MESA WESTWOOD . . . Speaking of favorites, the Warriors are precisely that in the B League of the Central Division. And Jerry Loper's group could provide a stiff challenge for all the marbles by season's end. Stalwart performances are anticipated from backs Joe Wagner (6-0,200), Marlow Crandall (6-1,170), Paul Butler (5-9,170), Chris Hunt (5-9,170), David Whitlock (5-11,185) and Jeff Stetson (5-10,165). All are seniors; Crandall will be the quarterback. Another key figure is 6-0, 200-pound Curt Harris, who starts at both offensive guard and at defensive tackle. He has strength and quickness, as well as a good head on his shoulders. Also lending support in and around the line will be tackle Jeff Carter (6-1,190), center Bill Udall (5-11,170) and linebacker Mark Richardson (6-0,190). In all, eight starters return from a team that polished off nine of 12 foes last season. It won't be easy with toughies like Coronado, Tempe and Saguaro forcing the issue, but this club will very likely finish on top in the realigned B League.

8 PHOENIX TREVOR BROWNE . . . An explosive set of running backs will once again be the focal point of the Bruins. As this team heads into their first year of competition in the new Metro Division, veteran Rick Pickett (5-10,175) and transfer Melvin Howard (6-3,200) could both crack the 1000-yard barrier for coach Bill Mitton. After all, Pickett stepped in last year and produced over 700 yards in just seven games, while Howard slashed for over 1000 steps for a highly regarded high school in Alabama. Also back from the '79 Trevor Browne playoff crew that prevailed in ten of 12 matches is Alan Head, a 5-9, 170-pound senior with the inside track for the quarterback spot. Stalwarts in the interior line are tackles Larry Parker (6-4,210) and Brian Spurlock (6-3,205), plus guards Bill Morton (6-3,195) and Will Sitton (6-2,215). On the defensive front, five youngsters in particular are slated for starting duty. Ken Mills (6-0,205) and Mike Loya (5-11,185) are solid bookends for the line. Backing them up at the linebacker posts are senior David Smith (5-11,175) and standout junior Darrin Tupper (5-11,195). In the secondary, steady Randy Simmers (5-11,175) is tops.

9 MESA . . . Even though Mesa finished with a so-so 8-6 slate in '79, we all know what a string of victories the Jackrabbits put together in the playoffs before bowing to Amphitheater in the finals. Head man Ben Arredondo describes the upcoming football campaign as a total rebuilding year, one in which he'll open the offense up and throw the pigskin around a little more. Only one regular on offense and one on defense return, but the Jackrabbits still should be highly competitive. Seniors Gary Akers (5-10,170), Alex Contreras (6-0,175) and Kevin Kotsur (6-2,220) will set up shop in the backfield, while David McNamara (6-1,170) and Mike Hodges (6-1,175) will do likewise in the secondary. Doug Davis (6-1,200) certainly is a capable lineman and is being counted upon to pace his younger counterparts. It's highly possible this team could finish third in league and still be among the best in the state.

10 TUCSON SAHUARO . . . Skip Peete and Rocky Roggeman lead a group of 12 returning starters for head Cougar coach Virg Stan. Peete is a great all-around athlete who has compiled some sparkling stats in his days at Sahuaro. He gathered in 19 receptions last year from his wide receiver slot, good for over 300 yards and four scores. On the other side of the line of scrimmage, this youngster swiped five throws and participated in 50 tackles as a tough-to-beat safety. Finally, he contributed an average of 41.0 yards per kick for 30 punts to keep the opposition off balance in that area too. However, Roggeman wasn't standing idly by. Stan calls his middle linebacker "potentially as good as Riki Gray (former Amphi great now playing for USC)." The 6-1, 218-pound Roggeman merely averaged 16 stops a game as a junior, in addition to his six fumble recoveries and three interceptions. The defensive tackle tandem of Bill Miller (6-0,210) and Brian Koch (6-4,215) has proven very effective in smothering enemy offensive attacks, while tenacious tailback Scott McMurrey (5-10,175) is the chief ground threat for the Cougars. Graduation claimed the outstanding passing combination of Mark Mistler to Jay Dobyns, but Sahuaro could easily approach last year's 8-2 ledger.

11 GILBERT . . . The Tigers can hold the heads high, since they have a first and two seconds in the last three grid years. Under the guidance of head mentor Dan Dunn, Gilbert appears ready to lock horns with defending AA champ Gerard in a rugged battle for league and state honors. Corona del Sol should also play a role, but if Gilbert is to emerge as Arizona's best in the AA ranks, you can bet tackles John Rohde (6-5,230,sr) and Rick Bunch (6-2,215,jr) will contribute heavily. These two will combine with a number of younger linemen to provide protection for quarterback Joe Stark (5-9,145) and running room for halfback Robert Rutledge (6-2,170). Meanwhile, veteran split end Gene Valocchi (6-0,180) could give enemy defensive backs a year-long headache. Overall, Gilbert has a fairly young squad, but the potential is there for another high finish.

12 SCOTTSDALE CORONADO . . . Only a couple of starters from last fall's 7-2-1 crew were not claimed by graduation; everyone else is gone. But the picture isn't bleak at all for coach Tom Dahl, who intends to make the most of his young squad. The '80 Dons offer an efficient group of skill players, namely tailback Scott Bucher, tight end Jeff Thibault and split receiver John Cocci. Bucher is a player with a big future. As a sophomore who earned a starting spot late in the season, this 6-0, 185-pounder churned out 636 yards on just over 100 carries for six TD's. Bucher has demonstrated a particular knack for hitting the open hole. Meanwhile, teammates Thibault and Cocci specialize in catching the football. We expect this Coronado unit to move the ball offensively, though there are a few questions on defense.

13 MOON VALLEY . . . The Rockets are generally regarded as the second best Skyline Division gridiron group, but that could easily change. Back from Earl (Tiny) Putman's 7-3-1 team are a trio of super players and the backbone of a solid, playoff-contending bunch. Scatback Darryl Walker will be near the top of the statistics in rushing yardage, barring injury. He's like money in the bank. Another good one is quarterback Troy Lawton, who at 6-0 and 165 pounds will set the tone when the Rockets have the ball. Moon Valley might just have a second Newsome in the line who can knock heads with the best of 'em. Mike Newsome, the younger brother of standout offensive tackle Earl Newsome, will do his best to fill the void caused by his brother's graduation. The stickout of the defensive unit is definitely all-stater John Heffron, a 6-0, 175-pound ball of fire. There are some unproven youngsters in the trenches, but offensive guard Dwight Behrens (5-11,190) is counted upon to provide a steadying influence.

14 PHOENIX THUNDERBIRD . . . The Chiefs are another Skyline contender with some rebuilding to do, but with lots of momentum in the right direction. The Mike Clark-coached Chiefs raced to a nifty 8-1-1 mark last year and several stalwarts are back from that club. The offensive backfield will feature quarterback Rick Huber (6-3,205), in addition to the running back pair of Don Tracy (6-0,180) and Tim Petros (5-9,180). Tracy has the best statistics, having rushed for 650 yards as a junior. Senior defensive end Glenn Marion (6-0,180) registered 15 sacks last time around, so he figures to make some big stops this campaign too. Also leading the defense will be tackle Jeff Brown (6-2,205) and linebacker Jeff Howe (5-9,180), while Huber should see action at a defensive end position. Thunderbird's record may not be quite as good as it was a year ago, but no one is taking the Chiefs lightly.

15 SCOTTSDALE . . . Possibly the number one darkhorse to sneak in and do some real damage in the upcoming drive for the AAA crown. The Beavers have 25 returning lettermen back from a group that finished 6-3-1 in '79. Included among that bunch are two outstanding quarterbacks and 14 starters in all. The top athlete on the Scottsdale roster is undoubtedly Randy Hayes. A definite all-state candidate, the 6-2, 185-pound Hayes will be the key man, wherever he plays. Last season he was the quarterback for the first seven games until an injury stopped him. During that stretch Hayes fired for 943 yards on the strength of 74 completions in 125 attempts. He came back at a slotback post in the final game to pull down five receptions for 78 yards and two scores. Hayes is also a fine defensive back and has ample speed (4.6) to play a number of positions. If Hayes doesn't assume the quarterback spot, senior Don Kesteloot (6-1,170) certainly will. He's also a very capable performer, though not quite as quick as Hayes. Others who should see plenty of action are tackles Scott Hodgeman (6-2,210) and Tom Melton (5-10,225), guard John Featherman (5-10,185), center Brian McMahon (5-9,185), receivers Scott Kidner (5-11,165), Kyle Bliffert (6-0,165) and Paul Heun (6-3,185), plus backs Jeff Jarko (5-11,175), Dan Larkin (5-10,165), Ron Hix (5-8,170), Tim Ring (5-10,165) and linebacker Ruben Serna (5-9,165). All are seniors and all want to make the Beavers' first go-round in the Metro Division a memorable one.

16 SIERRA VISTA BUENA . . . If any line can carry a team into title contention, the Colts have it. They'll start veterans Stan Short (6-4,215) and Keith Jones (6-2,200) at the tackles. Woody Johnson (6-1,230) and Allen Royce (6-0,205) at the guards and Chris Bettencourt (6-2,205) at center. And the tight end will be Ricardo Mitchell, no midget himself at 6-5 and 195 pounds. Head mentor Truman Williamson admits. "We must start over in backfield." Senior running back Sam Loucks, a 5-10, 180-pounder with 4.7 speed, could be part of the solution. Nose guard Johnson was in on 169 tackles last year and he will team with defensive end Kevin Polston (6-1,200) to boost the stoppers. Buena was 7-4 a year ago. We think the Colts will wind up in the playoffs, second in their league behind top-ranked Sunnyside.

17 TEMPE . . . With blockbuster fullback Jim Williams plowing for yardage, this Tempe outfit will present a hard-charging offense and a capable defense. Williams (6-1,205) is also a tremendous linebacker and a two-sport (football, wrestling) all-state choice. He broke his school's all-time rushing record for both a single game and the entire season. Needless to say, Williams has drawn more than his share of attention from major college recruiters. The '80 Buffalo edition will also spotlight the skills of flanker Mike Nesbitt (6-0,175), quarterback Steve Ybarra (5-11,180) and tailback Rich Carrias (5-10,175,jr). Tempe is coming off a seven win-three loss campaign in A League of the Central Division. This fall, coach Jim Murphy's guys will try their hand in the realigned B League, where three or four contenders will battle for the coveted crown.

18 PHOENIX WASHINGTON . . . There's a rough road ahead for the Rams. Only four starters return from the 8-2 team of a year ago and Apollo looks tougher than ever. We think the Rams will bump heads with rivals Brophy and Cortez for the number two spot in the Skyline Division's A League. If Washington can get the job done, a good mixture of juniors and seniors will play the key roles. The offensive backfield shapes up with Brady Garrison (5-10,160) at quarterback, junior Brent Wood (5-10,185) at a running back post and Rick Reitano (5-10,165) at wingback. Wood can definitely run with the football, having gained nearly 2800 yards the last two seasons on the frosh and JV squads. Of course, he still must prove himself on the varsity level, but Washington fans like his chances. Coach Dave Swerdfeger is also happy to have a great blocker in John Kohl (6-3,200) on his side. Additional support will arrive through the efforts of junior Jim Carreno (5-11,200,C), junior Mike Bechtold (5-10,175,LB) and senior Bob Gudeman (5-10,165,DE). Terry Flood is quick (4.8) and can reel off some big gains from his split end slot.

19 FLAGSTAFF . . . The AA North hasn't fielded a state football champion since Coconino snared the title in '74. But this could be the year. The Eagles have excellent offensive firepower and two real stoppers at the linebacker positions. Foremost among the dozen returning regulars is fourth-year field general Greg Topp, a 6-4, 180-pounder who clicked on 76 of 140 throws for 1017 yards and ten six-pointers. He also earned all-state honors as a punter, thanks to his 42-yard average. Many of Topp's tosses will be aimed at flanker Nathan Joe, a two-year letterman. Junior Stan Gill has outstanding ability, as proven by his 600 yards rushing in his sophomore year. This 5-9, 180-pound flyer is headed straight for a great campaign. Senior center Eric Treece (5-11,180) is coach Larry Gray's main man in the line, while the defense is led by backers Roger Teague (6-3,200) and David Gorman (6-2,205), who combined for 160 tackles in '79. Strong safety Matt Kendall is an all-league selection who is particularly adept as an open-field tackler. Don't be surprised if the Eagles reverse the recent trend in the AA ranks.

Gateway to a great way of life.

Eloy's Mossy Cade (43) is now at Texas.

20 ELOY SANTA CRUZ . . . The beat goes on for the winningest football team in Arizona over the past ten years. The Dust Devils have captured the '78 and '79 Class A crowns, winning 25 of 26 contests in the process. In that time, Mike and Mossy Cade (University of Texas) have won All-America recognition and James Malone is on his way to Arizona State to follow the lead of brothers Art, Benny and Jimmy - all first-class performers in their own right. This Santa Cruz squad is dominated by a extremely promising junior class. In fact, the vast majority of the running chores will rest on the shoulders of the last Malone, another Cade and junior halfback Greg Bigham (5-9,170). Felton Malone, a 6-0, 175-pound junior, has made more of a name for himself in the defensive secondary, but he should have his chance on offense too. Travis Cade (6-0,195) has power and speed, plus enough potential to keep the Dust Devils moving, even though his famous cousins have moved on. The tackle tandem of Carl Butler (5-9,175) and Chuck Robinson (5-9,190) isn't overwhelming in size, but they've both earned all-conference status. Junior strong safety Keith McKaney (5-9,155) will also contribute.

MICKEY BELL, Peoria Cactus . . . 5-10,175,sr . . . Already an all-state defensive back (he swiped 14 enemy passes last year), Bell should become a super signal caller for the Cobras this year. "The type of athlete who can play any position on the field," says head mentor Paul Williams.

JOHN EZELL, Western Christian . . . 5-11,160,sr . . . One of the best offensive performers in the Class C ranks, this youngster merely connected on 85 of 139 attempts last year for 1636 yards and a cool 27 touchdowns. Ezell also collected nearly 300 yards on the ground and was awarded all-state honors.

BOB GUIDICE, Phoenix St. Mary's . . . 6-0,190,sr . . . Back for his final prep campaign, Guidice totaled over 1300 yards in the air during a fine junior season. One of the keys for the Knights.

HOWARD HAYES, Gila Bend . . . 6-0,180,sr . . . Coming off a very respectable campaign, one in which he led the Monsters to a 6-3 slate. For his part, Hayes achieved 1500 yards passing, 15 TD's and all-conference status.

RICKY JACKSON, Coolidge . . . 6-0,160,sr . . . If the Bears are to challenge arch rival Santa Cruz for league and state titles, this slippery quarterback will lead the charge. The main man in coach Larry Delbridge's Veer Offense.

(Scottsdale Progress photos)

Don Kesteloot and Randy Hayes, Scottsdale

GABE MARTINEZ, Nogales . . . 5-11,150,sr . . . Not a shy youngster when it comes to putting the ball in the air, Martinez fired 221 passes at opponents a year ago, completing 98 for 1607 yards and just seven interceptions. A leading candidate for AA South honors.

JACK RENO, Elfrida Valley Union . . . 5-9,160,sr . . . Has some quick feet and a great arm. This Blue Devil ace clicked on over 50% of his tosses and surpassed the 1000-yard mark.

CHUCK ANTONI, Salome . . . 6-2,190,sr . . . Will be gunning for his third consecutive year of all-state awards. Antoni glided for over 800 rushing yards and 17 six-pointers from his tailback slot in '79. He also found time to grab 29 passes for nearly 600 yards and another 11 scores. His 340 career points rank him near the top in Arizona prep history and he still has a year to go.

FRANK BRDECKO, Bowie . . . 5-7,155,sr . . . Another Class C representative with impressive credentials. This little scatback rambled for 970 yards overland in just seven contests. He's quick and surprisingly strong for his size.

DOUG DIEHL, Phoenix Christian . . . 6-1,185,sr . . . The B Central Division's all-star halfback, due mainly to his 517 yards on the ground and average of almost seven yards per carry. One of eight returning starters for the Cougar offense.

FABIAN FIERRO, Tolleson . . . 5-10,165,sr . . . "Instant Offense" for the formidable Wolverines (9-3). Fierro gained all-state honors last year, with 1231 yards rushing (13 TD's) and ten of 11 completions from the option pass, good for six more scores.

ROBBY FOSTER, Shadow Mountain . . . 5-9,165,sr . . . Tricky and talented, Foster follows his blockers as well as anyone. He breezed for 904 yards as a junior and collected all-conference laurels. Has 4.6 speed.

George Lopez (20), Glendale, RB-LB.

TOM FRUTH, Williams . . . 5-7,160,jr . . . Even as a young sophomore, Fruth played inspired football for the Vikings, who finished with a 7-3 mark. He contributed 700 yards rushing and nine touchdowns and was impressive enough to garner all-state recognition.

FRED HATHALIE, Tuba City . . . 6-1,175,sr . . . With 550 yards to his credit operating behind a very inexperienced line, this tailback could be in for a big senior season. "A tremendous athlete," says Warrior head coach Al Ocampo.

JOHN RILEY, Bullhead City Mohave . . . 6-2,200,jr . . . One of the ringleaders for the Thunderbirds, Riley will occupy the tailback position for the offensive attack. Extremely strong, this promising ball carrier could resemble a runaway train by season's end.

CESAR SIERRA, Douglas . . . 5-11,189,sr . . . A devastating fullback-linebacker for the Bulldogs. He was afforded all-state notice at both positions, just missing the 1000-yard mark on offense and registering 93 stops from his defensive post.

TONY McCLURE, North Phoenix . . . 6-1,170,sr . . . Should team with fellow Mustang Sam Rucker (5-7,140) to give the -80 club two fine targets off the passing game. McClure and mates must give it their all to overcome some down years.

STEVE PRICE, Parker . . . 6-1,210,sr . . . Currently holds a 20-game streak in which he has caught at least one pass in each game. Last season, Price snared 23 for some big gains. This year, he should be on the payoff end of quarterback Dan Maya's throws as the Broncs and coach Doyle Holt attempt to eclipse the 4-6 standard set a year ago.

DEAN WILLIAMS, Tucson Catalina . . . 6-0,170,sr . . . The Trojans' split end, 4.6 speed and all. A definite honors candidate for the veteran Catalina outfit; 17 regulars are back and raring to go.

A.J. CASTANEDA, Miami . . . 6-3,240,sr . . . The highly decorated two-way tackle for the Vandals is a force to be reckoned with. Clocks the 40 in a respectable 5.2 and would like to attend either Arizona State or the University of Arizona upon graduation.

MIKE LUNKIN, Sunnyslope . . . 6-4,205,sr . . . Quite an obstacle for opponents from his defensive end location, Lunkin tripped up 96 enemy ball carriers and even earned Lineman of the Week honors in the Skyline Division on one occasion. His forte is the pass rush.

JIM FORD, Paradise Valley . . . 6-2,225,sr . . . The Trojans' top interior lineman and a major factor in Paradise Valley's hopes of bouncing back from the 1-9 campaign of a year ago.

JOE WILLIAMS, Apache Junction . . . 6-1,215,sr . . . This man starts it all for the Prospectors. He was considered the best at his position (center) in Class A competition last fall. Possesses 4.9 speed and quick feet.

KEVIN KEHL, Yuma . . . 6-0,195,sr . . . One of the top returning linebackers in the entire Central Division. Kehl averaged seven unassisted tackles per contest as a junior for Criminal coach Gary Venture.

JULIUS WRIGHT, South Mountain . . . 6-1,195,sr . . . Possesses 4.7 speed and a great desire to get to the BILL DARROW, Kingman . . . 6-4,190,sr . . . Will likely occupy the quarterback slot in the Bulldogs' offensive attack as well as his traditional safety position on defense, where he earned all-conference honors last year. Darrow picked off five interceptions as a junior.

JOHN KANTER, Phoenix Camelback . . . 5-10,185,sr . . . Coming off an inactive year due to injury, Kanter will probably go at running back and strong safety. Also a fine kicker for the Spartans.

RUBEN PACHECO and DANNY SERRANO, Kearny Ray . . . 5-11,160,sr and 6-0,170,sr . . . Both are standout secondary men for the tough Bearcats, who will be among the favorites in their new Class B competition. Pacheco and Serrano both achieved all-conference awards and combined for 124 stops and nine interceptions a year ago.
